

1. YIAGA Targets 20 million Youths for Anti-Corruption War - LEADERSHIP

By ADEBIYI ADEDAPO, Lagos

The Youth Initiative for Advocacy, Growth & Advancement (YIAGA) with support from the Macarthur Foundation has designed programme aimed at to mobilising about 20 million Nigerians, particularly youths, to lead the war against corruption and impunity in the country.

The project seeks to build resistance against corruption by exposing corrupt practices and demanding prosecution of indicted suspects.

Full story here : <http://leadership.ng/2017/10/18/yiaga-targets-20-million-youths-anti-corruption-war/>

2. What Nigerians need to fight corruption – Civic Groups: PREMIUM TIMES

To eradicate corruption in the society, Nigerians must be united and join movements holding individual, groups and government accountable, a civic group has said.

The program manager of the civil society organisation, YIAGA, Cynthia Mbamalum, said this at a competition organised on Saturday in Abuja to celebrate the International anti-corruption day with the theme ‘United against corruption for development, peace and security.’

According to her, the aim of the Bounce Corruption #Hack4Good project is to bring young minds together and develop technology solutions that will help promote the anti-corruption fight.

Full Story Here <https://www.premiumtimesng.com/news/more-news/252003-nigerians-need-fight-corruption-civic-groups.html>

3. Team LaunchPad wins Bounce Corruption hackathon competition in Abuja - NAIJ

Team LaunchPad defeated 9 other teams at the grand finale to emerge winner of a keenly contested competition which showcased the brilliant works of amazing innovators with technologically-driven innovations to track corruption cases, track asset declaration and educate Nigerians on anti-corruption. Team Launchpad won the contest with their WikiRruption App pitch which can be used to get information about corruption and how the cases are being tackled.

Read more: <https://www.naija.ng/1139727-team-launchpad-wins-bounce-corruption-hackathon-competition-abuja.html#1139727>

4. #BounceCorruption Hackathons Competition –PR Nigeria

As we mark this year’s International Anti-Corruption Day with the theme, United against corruption for development, peace and security, there is a need to citizens in Nigeria to get involved more strategically in the role in demanding good governance and nationhood.

The Bounce Corruption project is aimed at exposing, amplifying, empowering and creating awareness on the fight against corruption as adopted by government agencies and citizens. One of the major activities of the Bounce Corruption project is the Hackathon.

Full story here https://prnigeria.com/anti-corruption/bounce-corruption-hackathons-competition/

5. Anti-Corruption Day: Honour Commitments, Implement Policies Instituted against Corruption, Buhari Urged

As the world and Nigeria commemorate the 2017 Anti-corruption Day, the Civil Society Legislative Advocacy Centre (CISLAC) has called on President Muhammadu Buhari to immediately honour promises and commitments and fully implement various policies instituted against corruption without fear or favour.

In a statement issued by its Executive Director, Mr. Auwal Ibrahim Musa (Rafsanjani), the organisation also enjoined the National Assembly to “descend from potential activities that could sabotage anti-corruption effort and support legislative processes and activities that aid anti-corruption.”

Read more: <https://www.thisdaylive.com/index.php/2017/12/10/anti-corruption-day-honour-commitments-implement-policies-instituted-against-corruption-buhari-urged/>